Dear Childs Hill,

Joyous!!! That's what this week has been!

We have packed so much into the last 5 days!

I honestly can't quite believe it.

On Tuesday, Key Stage 1 had a wonderful time watching a very special musical performance by the English Touring Opera. The show was called 'Back Into the World' and the performers had us all spellbound singing and dancing along.

Yesterday we held our much loved International Evening event. We are so proud of the rich diversity of cultures and ethnic backgrounds of our children and staff and we have very much missed this event in our school calendar. Getting everyone together yesterday was incredible. Children performed songs, dances and poems from all around the world and everyone got to eat delicious international cuisine prepared by parents and staff.

A big 'well done' to all the children who performed yesterday and a massive thank you to all the parents and staff who attended, supported, and cooked!

And finally, with October being Black History Month we held our very special assembly highlighting the importance of recognising significant black people from history and the present day and their contributions to changing the views of society across the world. The children made special 'Proud to Be Me' t-shirts, shared work and presentations and joined together in taking the knee against racism.

Have a lovely weekend,
Concetta

The Walk for Amal Art project

Some of our children from Childs Hill & Claremont who have recently arrived in the UK from overseas worked with Theresa to create an artwork. See below some of their amazing work.
